

Kumiai Chemical Group Basic Policy on CSR Procurement

1. Compliance with laws and regulations

The Kumiai Chemical Group complies with the laws of each country and respects social norms in our procurement throughout the supply chain. We do not have any relationship with anti-social forces.

2. Fair transactions

The Kumiai Chemical Group builds relationships of trust and cooperation with its suppliers and conducts fair and equitable procurement activities in order to provide stable supplies of safe, reliable, high-quality products and services. In addition, we make efforts to ensure we are not complicit in conflict through the procurement of mineral and other resources.

3. Respect for basic human rights

The Kumiai Chemical Group respects basic human rights, and engages only in procurement activities that do not involve forced labor, child labor, slave labor, human trafficking, unfair discrimination, or other basic human rights violations. We also give consideration to the working environment and safety and health.

4. Ensuring the quality and safety of products and services

The Kumiai Chemical Group ensures high levels of quality and safety, and conducts procurement activities at reasonable prices based on market principles in order to provide products and services that satisfy customers and ensure a stable supply.

5. Consideration for the environment

The Kumiai Chemical Group implements initiatives to reduce its environmental impact and conducts procurement activities with full consideration given to the environment. We give consideration to mitigating and adapting to climate change by reducing greenhouse gas emissions, preserving biodiversity, reducing waste, preventing pollution of the environment including soil, air and water, and using water and other resources efficiently.

6. Appropriate management of information

The Kumiai Chemical Group manages the confidential information, intellectual property, and personal information of suppliers appropriately in procurement activities.
